

Eight important terms

Flat. You have 3 minutes. Read the list. Then read it again.
Keep going until time's up.

blorp

the chair in the relatives' room that's always broken

fizzwick

a pen that only works for the person who owns it

gromble

the noise the drug trolley makes on a Monday morning

snorkel-day

a shift where everyone's off sick except you

wuzzle

tape that won't come off the roll

plonk

a patient who's been “just about to go home” for six days

krimble

the last biscuit nobody will take

dribbet

a bleep that goes off the moment you sit down

Eight important terms

Fold. You have 3 minutes. Read the list once. Then fold the right side across to the dotted line, so the meanings are hidden. Look at each word and say its meaning (out loud or in your head). Unfold and check. Fold again and repeat until time's up.

Fold right side to here

blorp

the chair in the relatives' room that's always broken

fizzwick

a pen that only works for the person who owns it

gromble

the noise the drug trolley makes on a Monday morning

snorkel-day

a shift where everyone's off sick except you

wuzzle

tape that won't come off the roll

plonk

a patient who's been “just about to go home” for six days

krimble

the last biscuit nobody will take

dribbet

a bleep that goes off the moment you sit down

Quick: what's a blorp?

Write what each word means. Rough is fine.

Your sheet (circle one): Flat / Fold

gromble
plonk
blorp
dribbet
wuzzle
krimble
fizzwick
snorkel-day

Quick: what's a blorp?

Write what each word means. Rough is fine.

Your sheet (circle one): Flat / Fold

gromble
plonk
blorp
dribbet
wuzzle
krimble
fizzwick
snorkel-day	